The 'Space & Design' series presents an international selection of distinctive environments, displays and products from the world's hippest interior designers and architects. The first section focuses on Dutch Space Design and incorporates coverage of five very different architects and interior design companies in The Netherlands, with projects ranging from cruise ships to restaurants and boutiques to homes.

The rest of the book showcases the global talents of those designers and architects at the forefront of World Spatial Design, split into five distinct categories, covering fashion boutiques and flagship stores; restaurants, bars, cafés and clubs; specialty stores and showrooms; offices, museums and galleries; and finally hotels.

Illustrated in full colour throughout, and with text in English, this book is indispensable to anyone interested in contemporary architecture and spatial design.
